Industrial Insurance in the United States

By CHARLES RICHMOND HENDERSON

THIS book, revised and enlarged for the English-speaking public, has already been published in a German series. The introduction contains a summary of the European laws on workingmen's insurance against accident, sickness, invalidism, and old age, with statistics to 1908. The text describes the various forms of social insurance known in the United States and Canada; local clubs and associations, fraternal societies, trade union benefit funds, schemes of large firms, corporations, and railways. One chapter is directed to labor legislation and another to employer's liability laws. Illustrations of the movement are given in chapters on municipal pension plans for policemen, firemen, and teachers; also the military pensions of the federal government and southern states. The appendix supplies bibliography, forms used by firms and corporations, text of bills, and laws on the subject.

THE LIFE AND LETTERS OF JOHN HAY

By* William Roscoe Thayer

"Easily the outstanding biography of the time and a worthy estimate of one of our great statesmen."—Boston Transcript.

"Like Mr. Thayer's admirable life of Cavour, this life of John Hay will take its place without challenge among the foremost books of its class. . . . . Seldom does one find two large volumes so uniformly readable. Both as literature and as history the book contains the promise of long life."—New York Times Book Supplement. Illustrated. 2 vols. $5.00 net.

ESSAYS AND SPEECHES

By* Charles G. Dawes

President of the Central Trust Company of Illinois, Chicago

"An interesting and valuable contribution to the materials for recent political and financial history. . . . . An especial merit attaches to these discussions of the financial and business problems of the last three decades because of their directness and because of the fact that, while most of them were made long prior to the legislative attempt at their solution, they showed a due regard to the political as well as economic difficulties to be overcome in remedial legislation."—New York Sun. Illustrated. $3.00 net.

THE TIN-PLATE INDUSTRY

By* Donald Earl Dunbar

A study and comparison of the tin-plate industry in free-trade Wales and in protectionist America. It thoroughly covers the whole subject of tin-plate making and throws a flood of light on some of the great economic and political problems of the day. $1.00 net.

THE CANADIAN IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY

By* W. J. A. Donald

The Canadian iron and steel industries have been built up largely by means of tariffs and the granting of bounties. Hence, in the treatment of his main theme, the author has ample opportunity to analyze the working of these methods. "A decided contribution to our knowledge of Canada."—New York Sun. $2.00 net.

MEANS AND METHODS OF AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION

By* Albert Leake

"In a complete yet concise way, this work takes up conditions of rural life, such as lack of educational and social opportunities, lack of amusement and recreation, the boy on the farm as an unpaid hand, and various other features, suggesting what appear to be practical solutions to the problems. . . . . A book possessing real value."—Pittsburgh Gazette Times. $2.00 net.
